Letter to my future lover:

Dear love,

We haven't even met, and I'm already wasting sleep to write to you. Which says a lot considering that I don't even know ~~you~~ if I believe in you yet. But it's recently came to my attention that I don't have any standards, and I don't know how to make them. So this is a letter of agreements, I guess.

Please be kind to me. If you are kind to me I promise you will always be the first to hear my writing. I hope you know how special that is. Please accept that I might be slow to intimacy. I'm afraid of so many things you see, especially if someone I care about is involved. Sidenote, but I'm writing this at 12:34 AM, which is my favorite time. I just wanted you to know. Please never expect anything of me. That's not to say don't assume that I'll succeed, but that I'll come to things in my own time. Fun fact, Stephen Hawking just died like 20 minutes ago. Crazy huh? If you stick around you'll get all kinds of crazy facts like that. Is that a turn on? I sure hope so.

Please understand that when you get to know me, I really don't talk much. All that I have to say, I ~~the~~ can't articulate unless it's written down. I think the main thing I ask for is patience. I don't want to sound pretentious, but I think I'm complex in ways that are hard to understand, and I fear that these complexities will keep me from love. But that's probably just my anxiety talking. I don't know if you're a girl or a boy, but honestly it really doesn't matter. I hope you love Avatar: The Last Airbender as much as I do. Also, I hope you're not crazy, because it seems like that's all I can attract. I hope you're hilarious and health conscious, because I need someone to make sure that I don't any get ~~get~~ guess all the time. I don't know, writing out set standards is hard, people are so different. I don't want any expectations, don't abuse me and we can explore the complexities from there 😊. But no matter what, I hope you're beautiful. And you will be, because I'll be in love with you.
