was feeling sad so I left early.
Strange.

Dear Mary, 10/10/21 12/10/21

Yesterday was such a beautiful day. Also full of chaos too!!! We had Aida's final project event which was basically a series of art workshops focusing on gender identities and sexualities. My mom eventually became the lead coordinator! It was so wonderful to see her so involved so much in the project. I was so sad to see the participants which made me so sad... why is she putting them down when we're meant to be proud of them? That was disappointed to see that seemed like she didn't know what to do either? she then changed directions and getting

but other than that, it was amazing. At the end, some authors performed some poetry. A ^vgentle, who turned out to be a professor from the most elite university in Bangladesh ~~he~~ performed a poem about LGBT + rights. She said, "gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender... why can't I be referred to as a human being?" I felt my heart SOA R and swell with so much joy. ~~we were all there~~ happiness happened like [redacted] and my name mean to reveal hurt + civilis finger getting hurt. I left so farhan cummie crying. I left so bad because she caught + stoped Kiyoko. Out the night
