

about hate groups like the KKK. never would I have known that with the superiority is INSIDE OF ME and WORRIES BEHIND MY THOUGHTS. It's just crazy to me how even though the art movement was ~~so~~ founded ~~and~~ started by the black/poc community, but with the people took it and, just ~~for~~ created the magical safe space into a money making business. Insane. community been looking business. In the I've recently been looking South Asian artists and I come across a queer indian artist named Bhupen. He's a gay man and I was just taken a bit back to see a South Asian man be so unapologetic & they be queer in South Asia during the 80's!!! Like a lot of his art work focuses on gay love and even gay sex it's ~~ex~~ so empowering. I made me feel so full and happy. Seeing another ~~breath~~ ~~give~~ queer unconditional person be themselves ~~at~~ unconditional makes ~~be~~ things feel a little less harder. It's melting me fall in LOVE with art again. I feel like I truly found myself. THANK YOU BHUPEN KHAKAR!!! My favorite piece from him is "you can't please all" which is seen as his "coming out". It's a painting of a man looking over named, watching a father and son carry their ~~donkey~~. It's based on KHAKAR!!!
